

SHOW SYNOPSIS

Long before Manolos, Birkins and Cosmos were seen in the hands of New York It girls, Scarletts and other infamous Southern Belles lived the pampered and privileged lifestyle of the rich and fabulous. In 2006, the ladies of the Millionaire Girls Club are ready to claim their place as the new arbiters of the glamorous life.

These five young fashionistas are on a constant ride of overseas shopping sprees and vacations in the most exclusive international locales. Alas, all of the members of the Millionaire Girls Club were not born with silver spoons in their mouths, but what these ladies lack in pedigree and experience, they make up for it in looks, drive, and ambition.

Each weekend their mansion is transformed into a trend setting hot spot where sophisticated rich and affluent professionals enjoy the intimate, invitation- only exclusive social scene. As you walk through the hallowed halls of their Buckhead manor, watch and learn the secrets of five femme fatales who are pursued by athletes, moguls and celebrities with reckless abandon.

What makes these independent women so special and irresistible? As an elite group of southern beauties, they have mastered the ability to be lady-like, sexy, desirable, and shrewd businesswomen. Groomed by their mothers to marry entrepreneurs, high powered lawyers or politicians; they have decided to forgo their charm school training and make money their own way.

If you desire to be the center of attention, make an entrance that is unforgettable; achieve money, success and fame without compromising your feminine sensibilities, experience the amazing lives of Babi, Marianna, Kinsley, Savannah and Taylor. Take a peek into the lives of women on a mission to live the American Dream. No gold diggers here...these ladies own the mine.

CHARACTER SYNOPSIS

Babi (pronounced baby). From Hilton Head, South Carolina, Babi is the ultimate daddy's girl. Raised to be a white glove wearing, conservative, throwback to the 1950s and 1960s woman, you won't catch her without her Louis Vuitton luggage, Hermes scarf, Lily Pulitzer pastels and Mikimoto pearls. As the hostess of the group, she uses her God-given ability to entertain the club members at MGC dinner parties with stories that weave humor, psychiatry and romanticism with good old fashioned Southern flavor. Sweet, soft-spoken, beautiful and extremely intelligent, this 25 years old starlet appears to be the perfect wife material for a proper southern gentleman. Will she live up to her parents' expectations and marry her betrothed, Jackson Rutherford or will she continue to grow her interior design business and stay a bad boy loving, single girl in the MGC mansion?

MGC CODE NAME: Steel Magnolia

Savannah. Blond, Sassy and Alluring, Savannah is rebellious and defiant. Known as the rule breaker, her Tennessee family tree is filled with women who used their sex appeal to move up in social standing and to secure their futures. Rather than use her voluptuous 5-5 figure to entice men, she chooses her ability to speak the language of business to demand their respect. As an aspiring businesswoman she favors cigar smoking, southern gentleman tycoons looking to sponsor and invest in her business ideas. Identified by her taste for objects that have a long-standing tradition of quality and heritage, you'll find her personal stylist selecting her wardrobe only from Chanel, Fendi, Ferragamo, and Balenciaga. A faithful and loyal friend, she is the glue that keeps the club together. Will she ever find the right business partner to expand her millionaire empire or will her temper, difficult attitude and unflappable demeanor drive away the one person who believes in her the most?

MGC CODE NAME: Ice Princess

Kinsley. Born and raised in Los Angeles, California, Kinsley was the only female in a male family dynasty of professional athletes. As a woman who knew players' statistics, salaries, averages and career potential, she was the resident sports authority among the popular girls and groupies at her high school in Marina Del Mar. After graduating from the University of Southern California with a double major in finance and broadcasting, she moved to Atlanta to become a newscaster for a national sports network. As the new pretty face in a town of southern charmers, she shed her plain Jane wardrobe of sweats and sneakers for Jil Sander, Ralph Lauren Collection, and Prada. Unfortunately for this LA girl, her career in sports broadcasting ended abruptly. Kinsley changed careers and became the youngest multi-million dollar financial banker and partner in the prestigious firm of Mathison & Gilby. Kinsley moved into the mansion with Marianna, as an added investment into her financial portfolio. As for the boys, Kinsley never discriminates. Whatever sport is in season...she is ready to play ball. Will she ever return to her life of professional sports as a wife of an athlete or will she continue to dominate her field as the financial girl who rules the world?

MGC CODE NAME: Show Stopper

Marianna (also known as Mari) Spoiled rotten by her mother, after the tragic death of her father, the famous oil industrialist, Gregor Cossabini, Marianna is the most flamboyant of the five. She's never met a pair of stilettos that she didn't love. A Miami socialite, she used her time jet setting to develop a love for sculpture, and paintings. Using her Sorbonne education as the basis for the rare antiquities that she finds for her clients, she's more than an art broker. Art and romance intersect quite nicely in Marianna's world. Most of her clients become admirers of her stunning appearance and beautiful mind. Not willing to be controlled by any man, is she the one precious work of art that no person can ever purchase? Or will the Cavalli, Versace and Armani clad lady relocate her successful business to London and finally open up the fine art gallery left to her by her father?

MGC CODE NAME: Bella Donatella

Taylor never grew up with the finer things in life, but she was determined to have it all before she turned 30. At the age of 28 she's almost there. After receiving a full scholarship to the same boarding school that Savannah and Babi attended, she realized that there was a world of luxury and privilege that existed for wealthy people. After 10 years with an international beauty conglomerate, Taylor was making 100,000 dollars per month as the top International Executive Director. After growing tired of selling lotions, potions and dreams in a bottle, she started a successful company that creates infomercials for women. A new member of the millionaire world, she decided to move into the mansion to learn all of the secrets of wealth and class that she missed as a child growing up in rural Mississippi. Famous for her love of diamonds, Ivy League educated men and flamboyant outfits, will Taylor ever feel like she is a true member of the Millionaire Girls Club? Or will she continue to leave a chain of broken hearts, and hide behind her success rather than believing that she belongs?
